

Choosing Efficient Combinations of Policy Instruments for Low-carbon development and Innovation to Achieve Europe's 2050 climate targets

Political feasibility of climate policy instruments in the EU

Annex D: On-line survey - Figures

Funded by the European Union

This project has received funding from the European Union's Seventh Programme for Research, Technological Development and Demonstration under Grant Agreement no. 308680.

Figure D-1 Stakeholders perception of environmental taxation. Response of all respondents

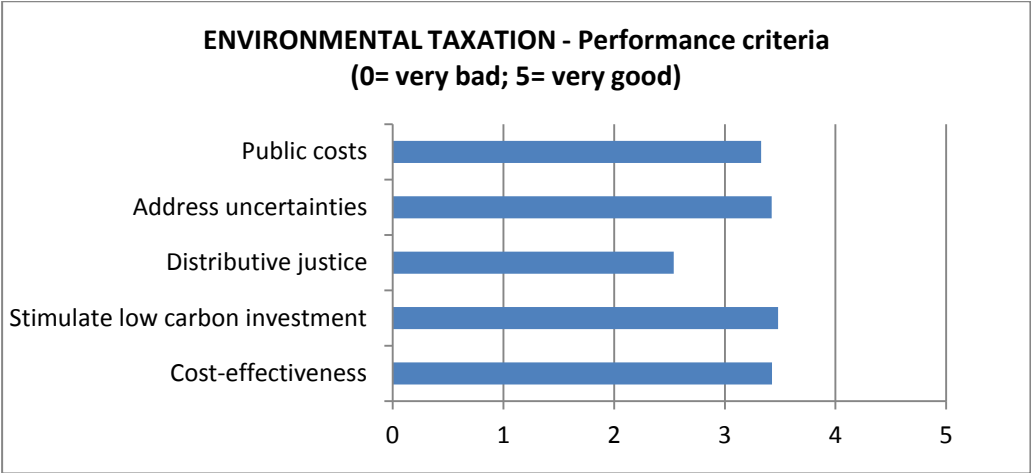

Figure D-2 Stakeholders perception of environmental taxation. Response by stakeholder group

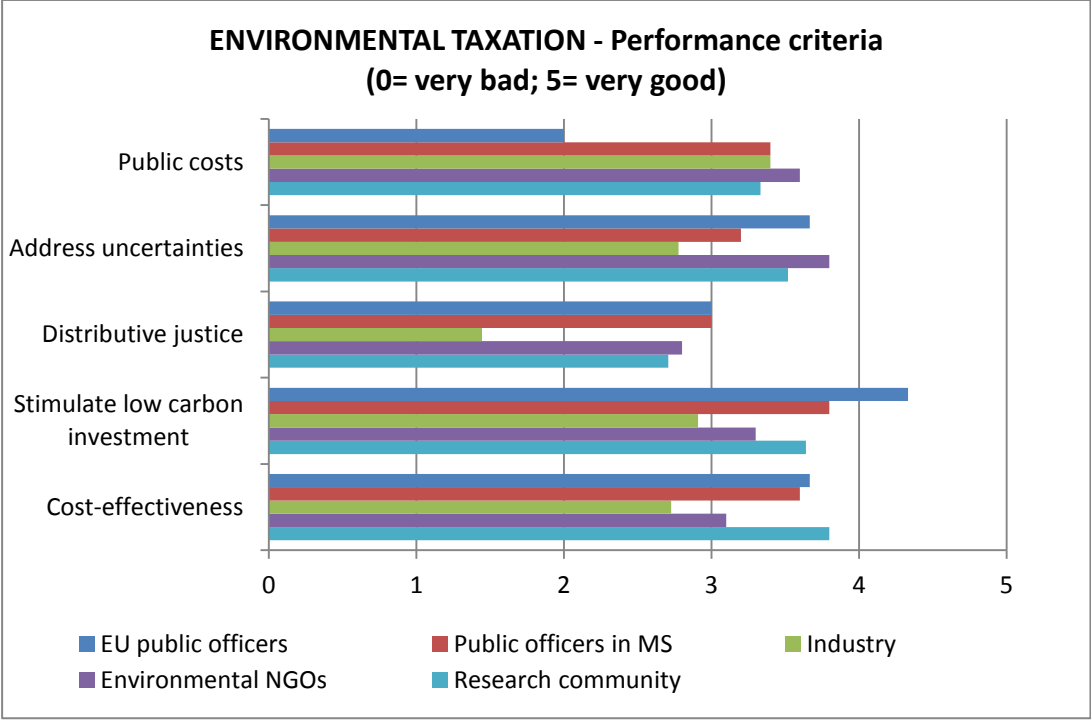

Figure D-2 Stakeholders perception of emission trading. Response of all respondents

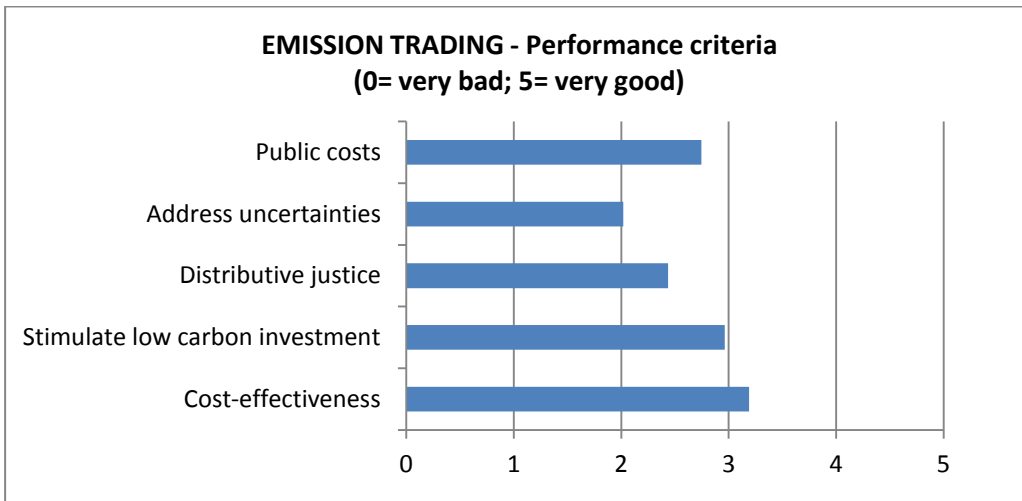

Figure D-3 Stakeholders perception of emission trading. Response by stakeholder group

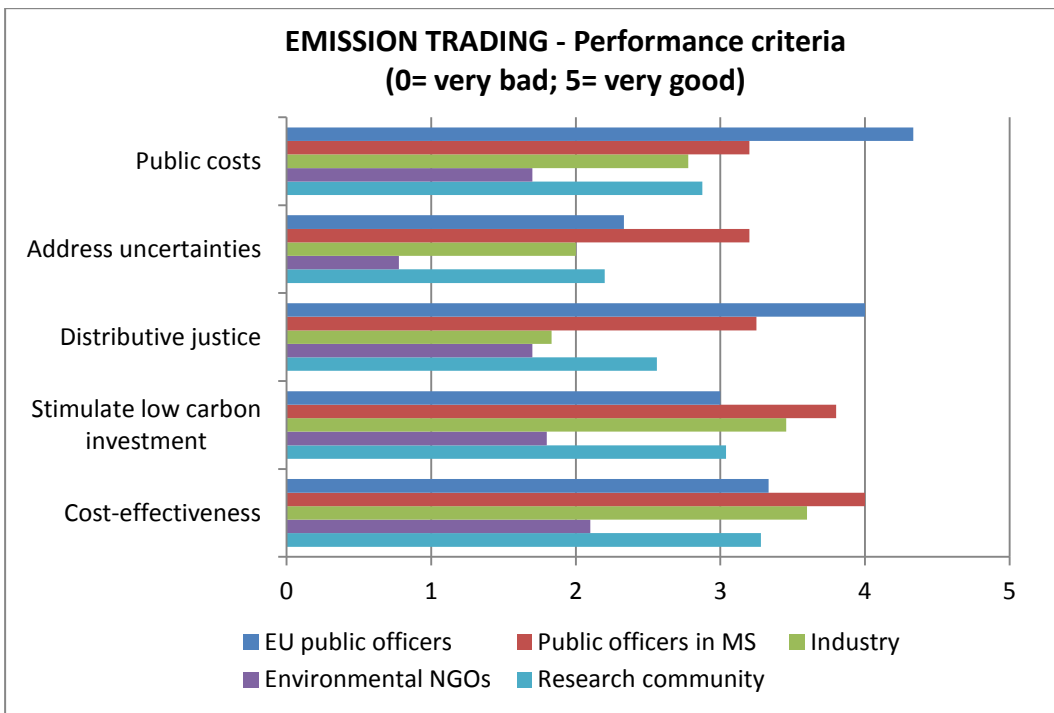

Figure D-4 Stakeholders perception of subsidies. Response of all respondents

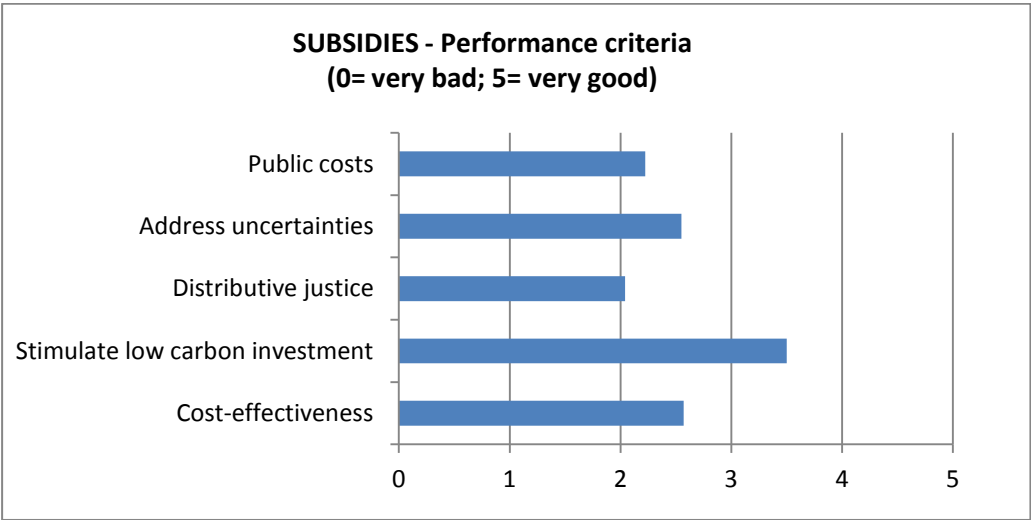

Figure D-5 Stakeholders perception of subsidies. Response by stakeholder group

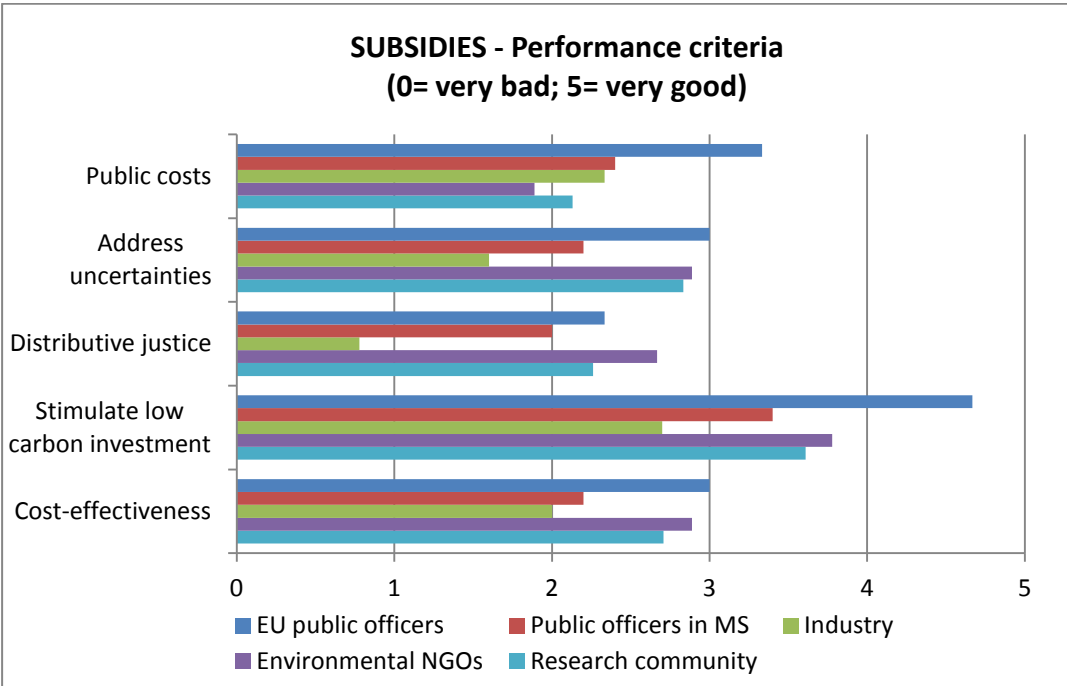

Figure D-6 Stakeholders perception of direct regulatory instruments. Response of all respondents

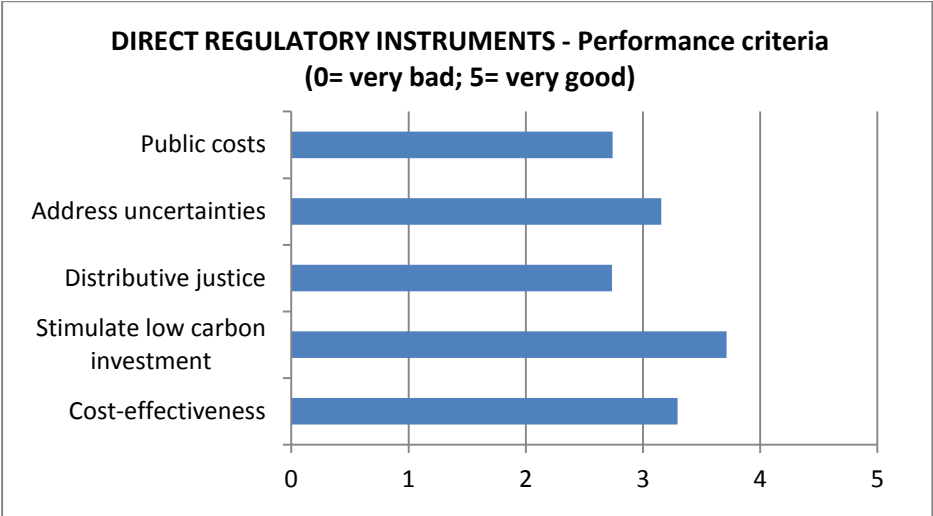

Figure D-7 Stakeholders perception of direct regulatory instruments. Response by stakeholder group

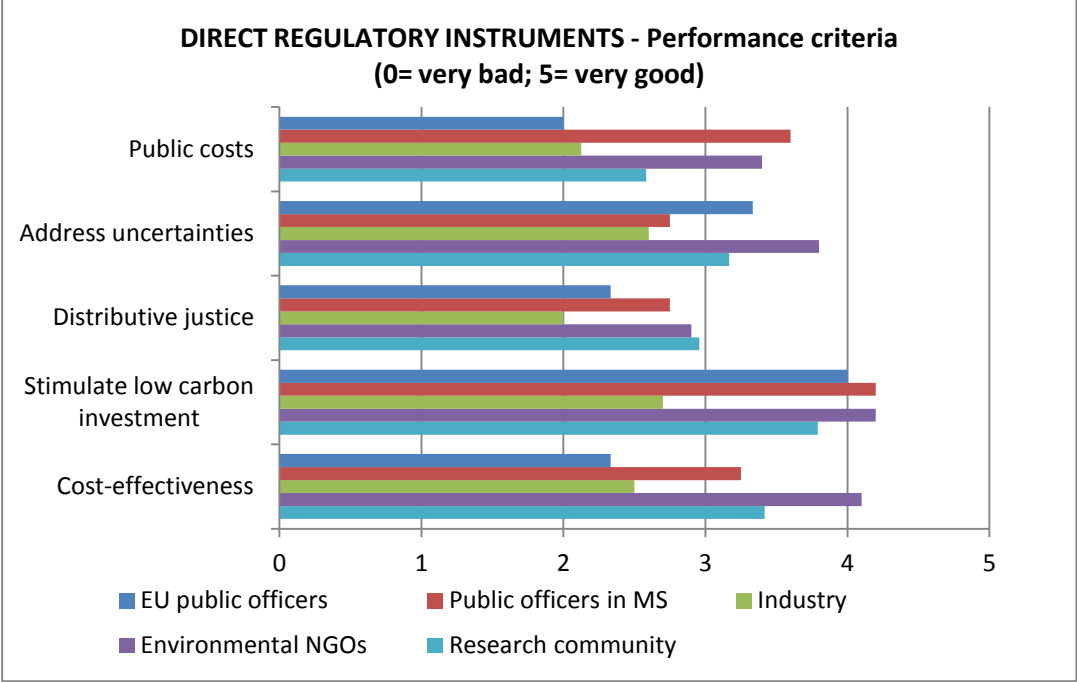

Figure D-8 Stakeholders perception of voluntary regulation. Response of all respondents

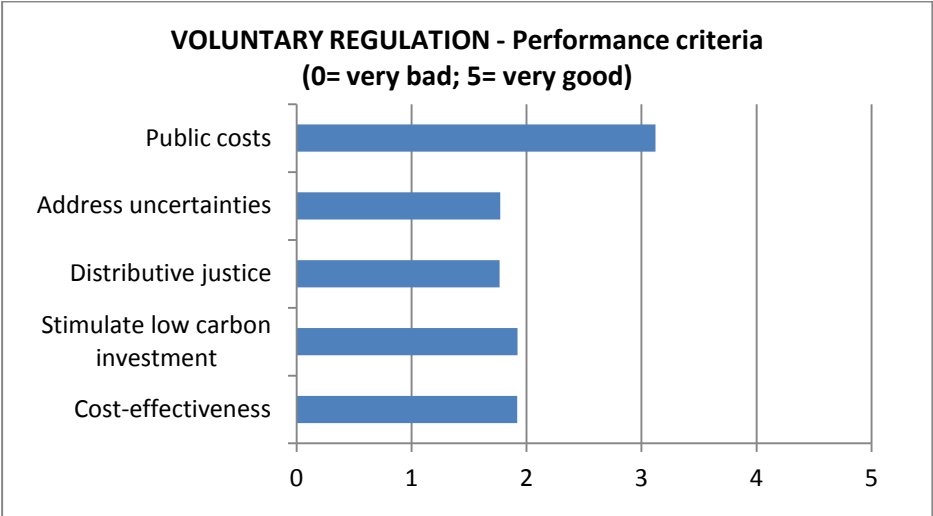

Figure D-9 Stakeholders perception of voluntary regulation. Response by stakeholder group

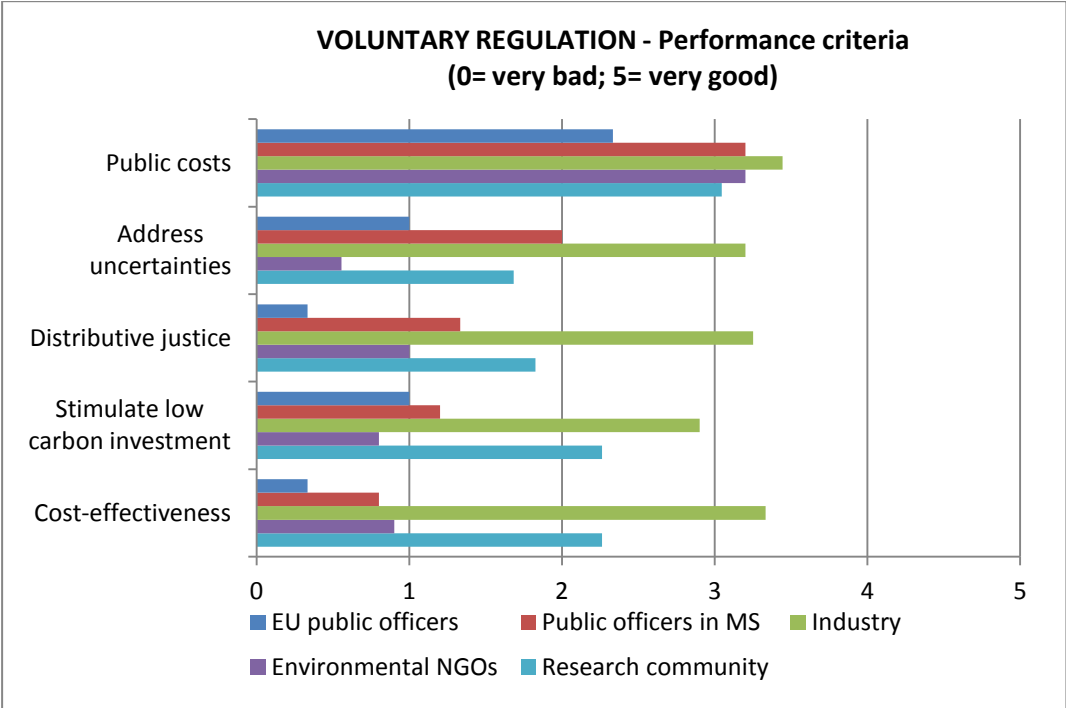

Figure D-10 Stakeholders perception of informational instruments. Response of all respondents

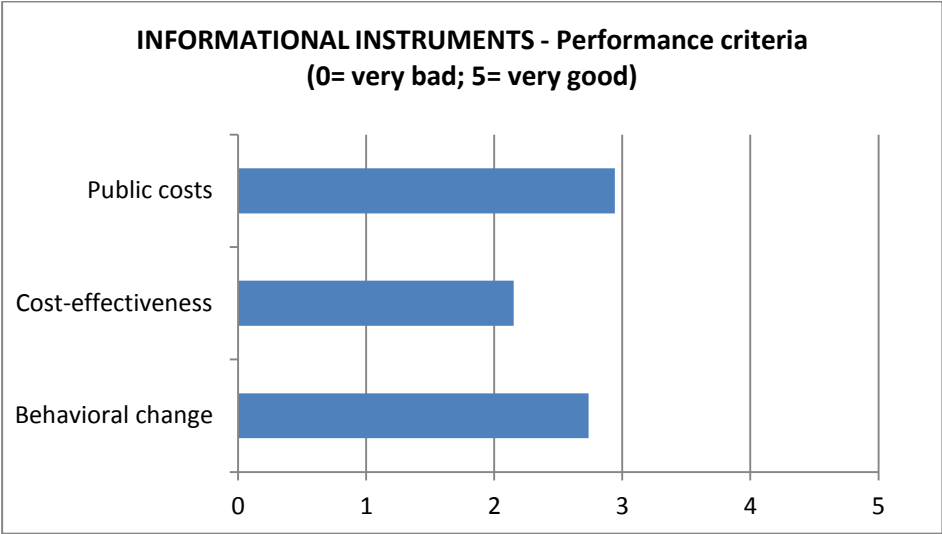

Figure D-11 Stakeholders perception of informational instruments. Response by stakeholder group

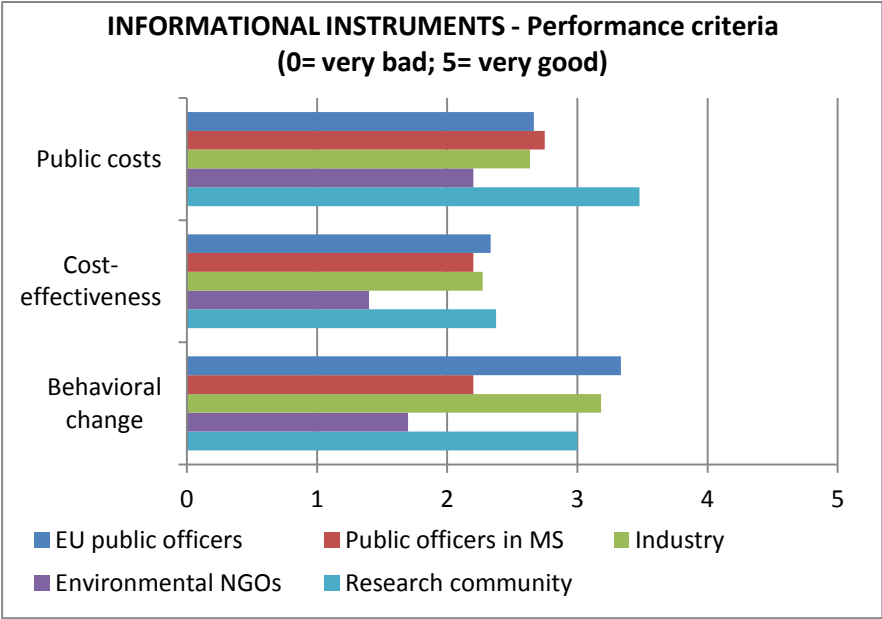

Figure D-12 Stakeholders perception about the importance of climate policy instruments characteristics. Response of all respondents

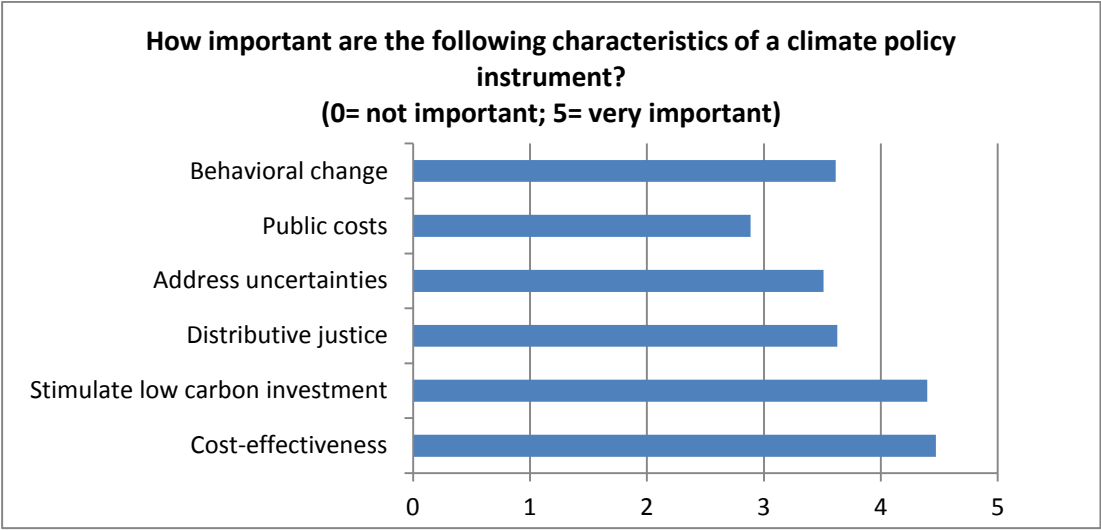

Figure D-13 Stakeholders perception about the importance of climate policy instruments characteristics. Response by stakeholder group

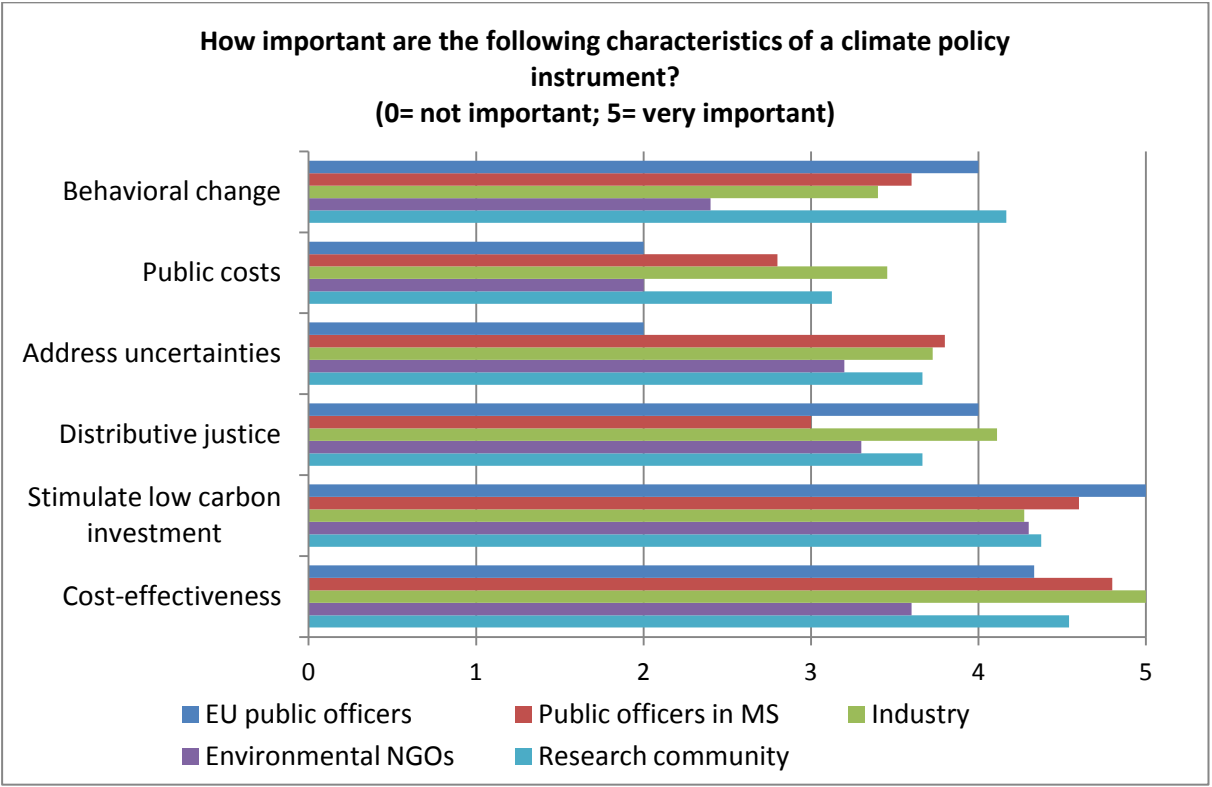

Figure D-14 Stakeholders perception about the capacity of different instruments to achieve the EU carbon emission targets. Response of all respondents

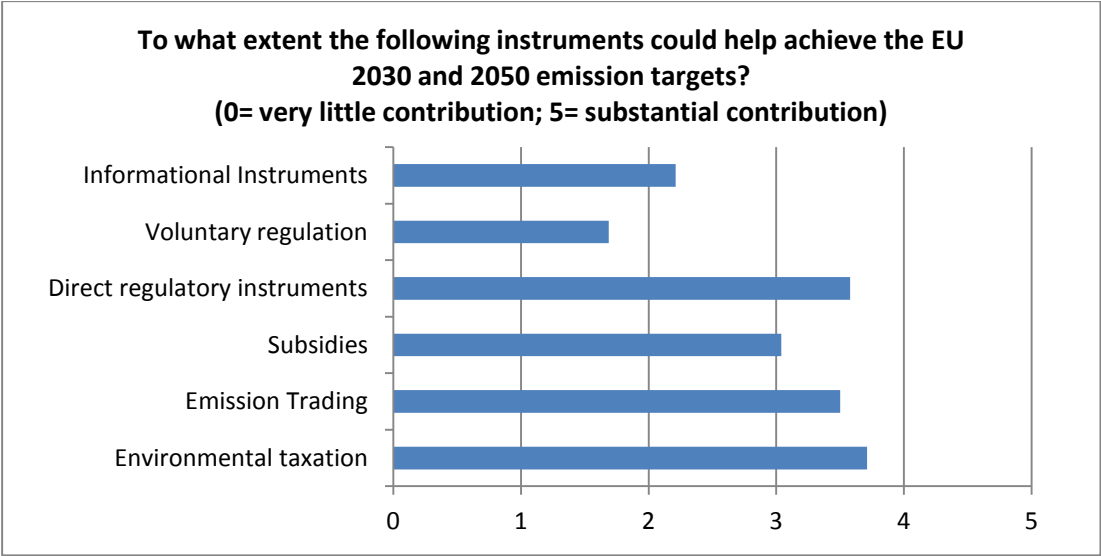

Figure D-15 Stakeholders perception about the capacity of different instruments to achieve the EU carbon emission targets. Response by stakeholder group

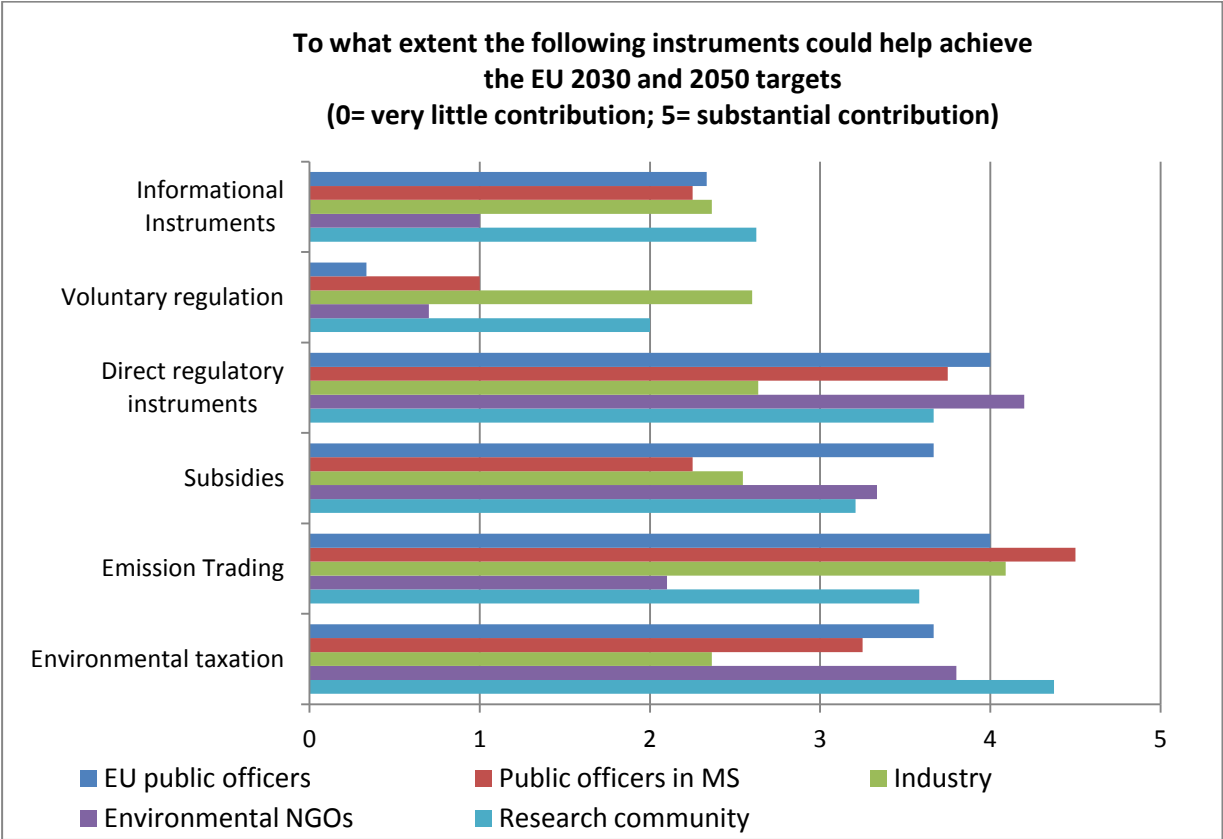

Figure D-16 Stakeholders perception about interest groups influence in policy making decisions. Response of all respondents

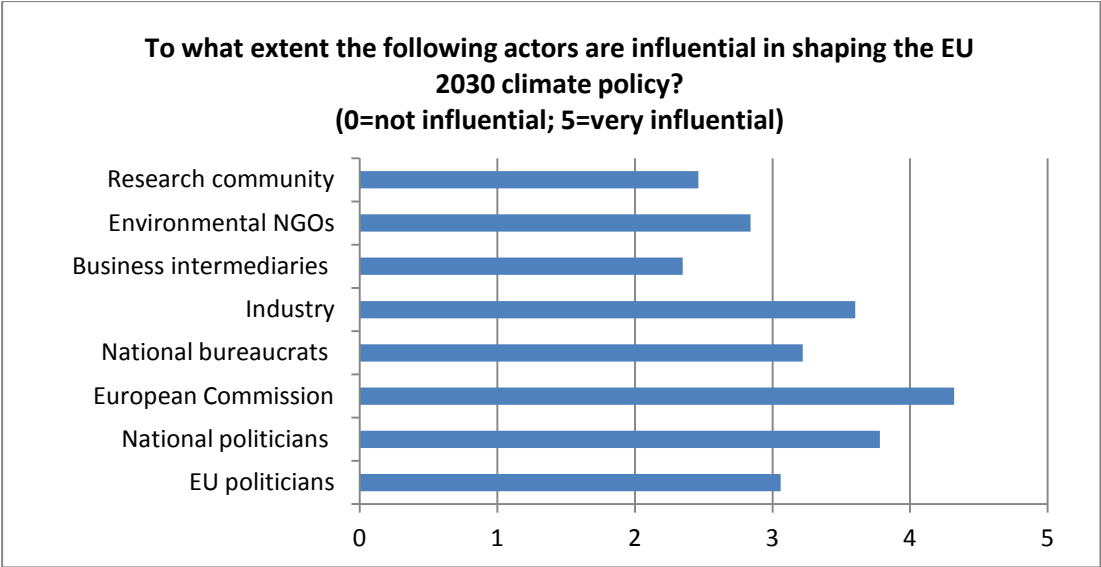

Figure D-17 Stakeholders perception about interest groups influence in policy making decisions. Response by stakeholder group

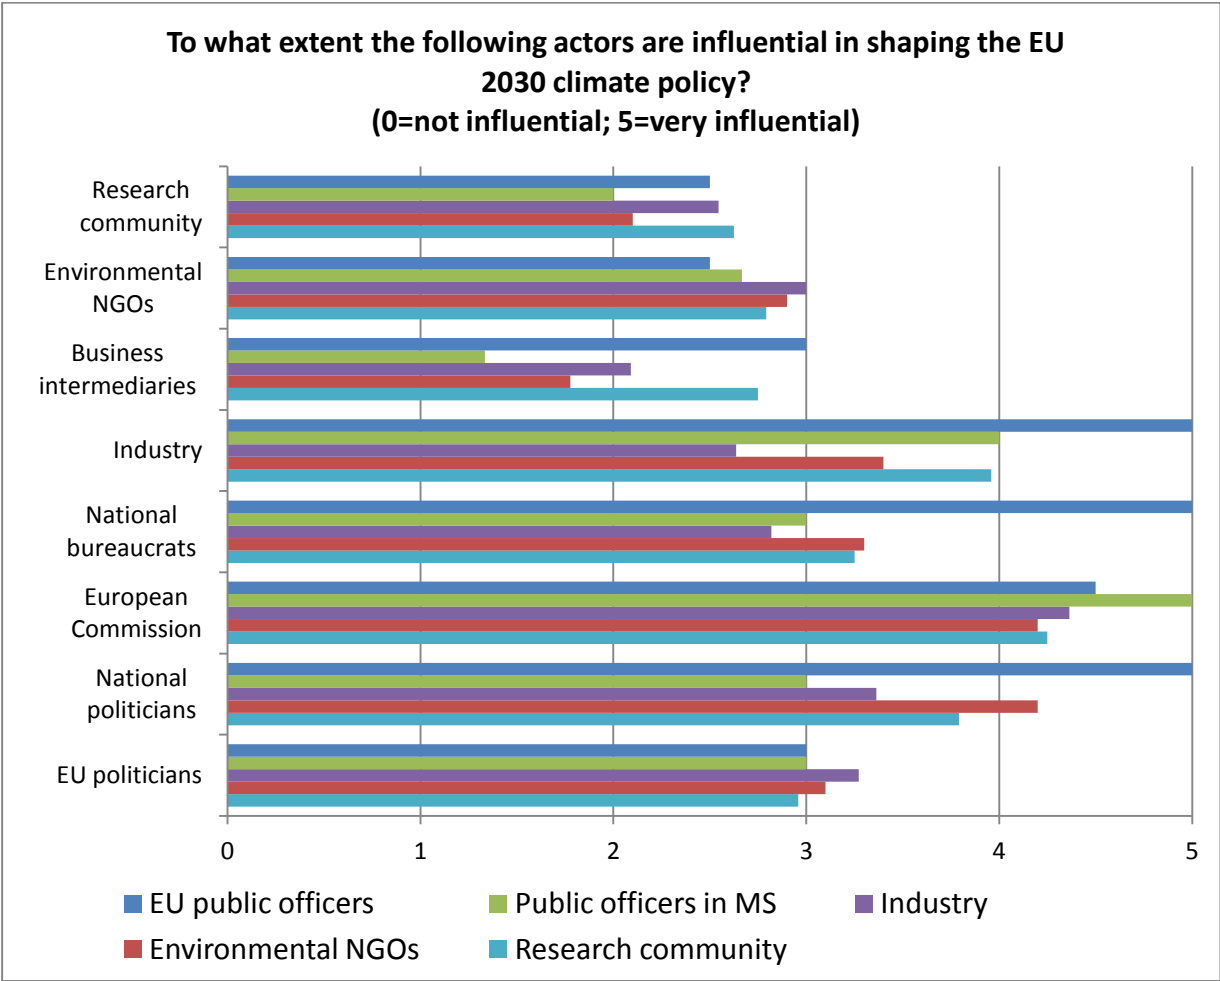

Figure D-18 Stakeholders perception about factors determining interest groups influence in policy making decisions. Response of all respondents

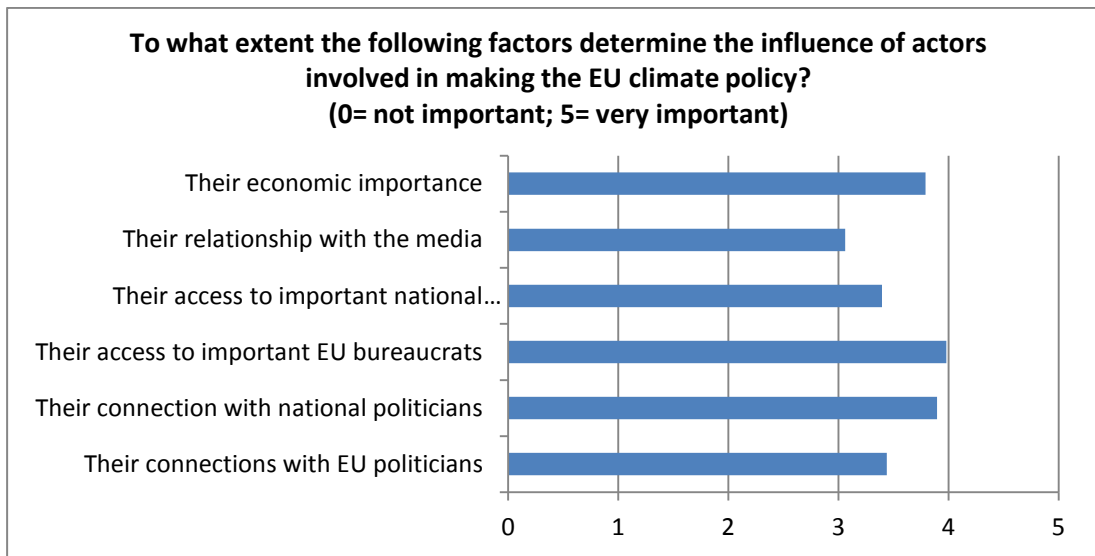

Figure D-19 Stakeholders perception about factors determining interest groups influence in policy making decisions. Response by stakeholder group

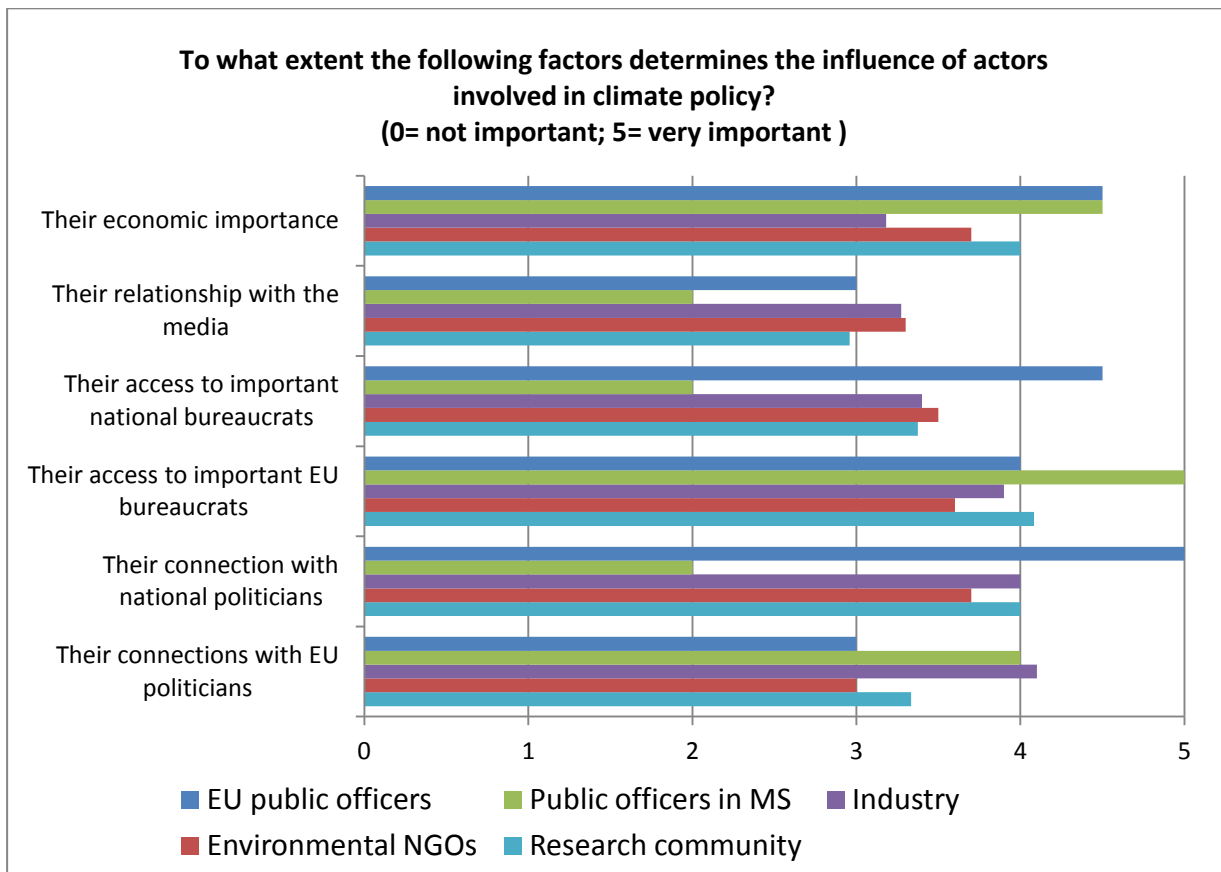

Figure D-20 Stakeholders perception about barriers to ambitious EU climate policy. Response of all respondents

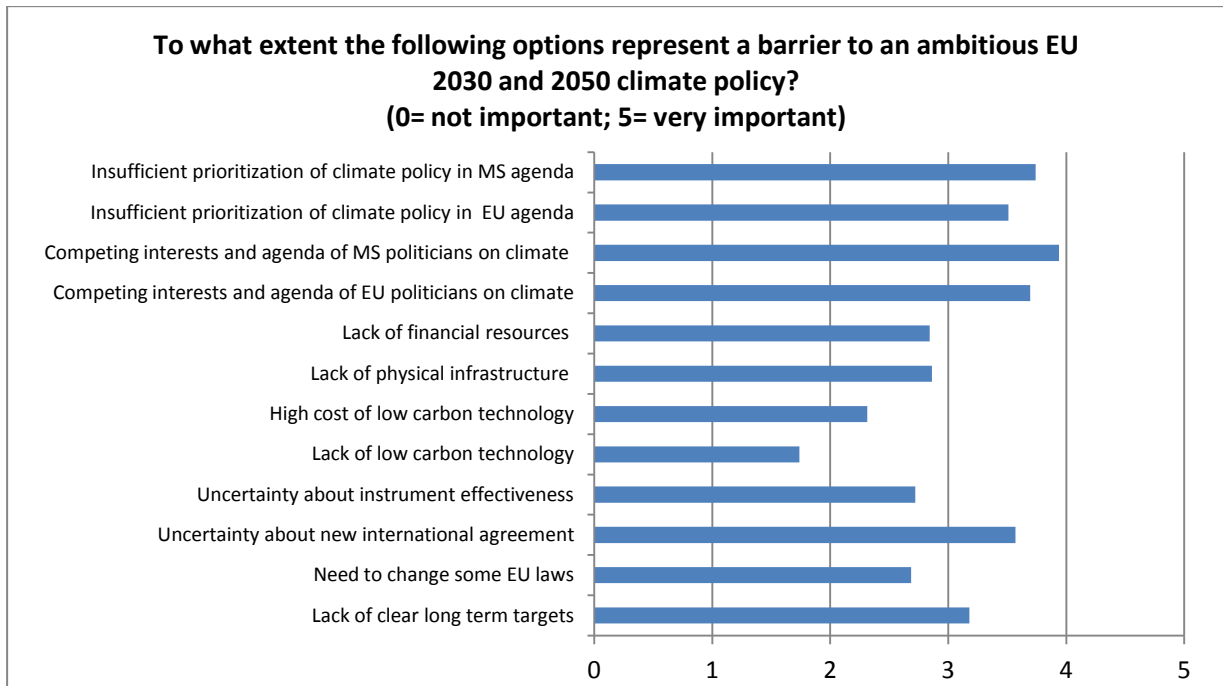

Figure D-21 Stakeholders perception about barriers to ambitious EU climate policy. Response by stakeholder group

